

THINGS BRAVE TEAMS WANT FROM THEIR LEADER.

BE CRYSTAL CLEAR

Leaders need to speak up and own their voice. Clearly articulate the business goals, expectations, and give constructive feedback.

Your team need open, honest communication which in turn fosters trust and alignment and of course, results.

SHOW THEM THE WAY

When a leader can share a compelling vision it helps team members understand the bigger picture.

Leaders who can share their vision inspire motivation, purpose, loyalty and resilience.

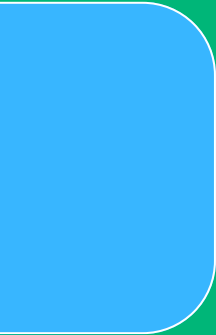

LEAD WITH YOUR HEART

Emotional intelligence drives trust, honesty, psychological safety and forms the basis of a strong foundation for a team.

Using empathy, emotions and perspectives will make your teams stronger and resilient.

DO WHAT YOU SAY YOU WILL DO.

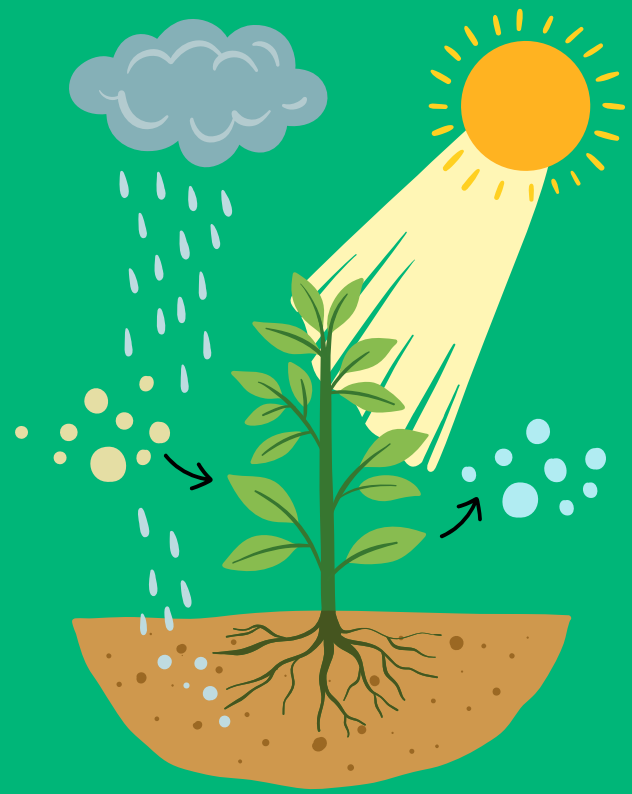

Being a consistent leader means staying true to your word, values and principles shows the team your inner strength.

A leader should always be role modelling the right behaviours because your team are always watching.

NURTURE AND GROW

Great leaders consistently invest in their team's learning and career progression.

They are obsessed with providing opportunities, mentorship, and constructive feedback to grow the strength of the individual as well as the team.

PLAY A FAIR GAME

When your team know you play by the rules, they do too. When you take accountability, display fairness and still deliver it leads the way.

Everyone wants to be treated equally and when you deliver it you prove your leadership.

BE THEIR 'FIXER'

An agile leader can flex and change to meet the business needs and twists and turns.

When a leader solves a problem, removes a roadblock, or smooths the waves it boosts your credibility and eases the way to delivery of results.

BE THEIR CHAMPION

A brave leader actively seeks out the good, in order to recognise, reward or skill build.

It doesn't matter how you do it, sometimes a simple thank you note or pat on the back is all you need. When they know you're looking for it they'll display it more.
